

Mark Colwell Serves as Congressional Intern with Moran

HAYS - Congressman Jerry Moran announced today that Mark Colwell is serving as a congressional intern this summer in his Hays office. Colwell is a 2003 graduate of Hays High School.

“Mark served as an intern in my Washington, D.C. office in 2005 and demonstrated a genuine care for Kansans,” said Moran. “I am pleased to again have his assistance working to see good things happen for our state.”

Colwell graduated from Fort Hays State University (FHSU) in December 2006 with a degree in political science. While at FHSU, Colwell was selected twice to study in China. In the summer of 2005, he participated in the International Business and Economics Study Abroad Experience in Beijing and returned to China again in 2006 to attend SIAS University Culture Camp in Xinzhen and Zhengzhou where he studied Chinese language and culture. Colwell plans to pursue a master's degree in political science.

“I am honored to serve Kansans on behalf of Congressman Moran,” said Colwell. “I have spent four years studying the political process and it is very interesting and fulfilling to participate in its operation on a daily basis.”

In the office, Colwell assists Moran with legislative and administrative duties on behalf of the people of Kansas.

Colwell is the son of Kent and Lisa Colwell of Hays.
